

Few Electricians

Only 28 members of the Class of '99 electrical shop at the state's 17 technical high schools have become licensed electricians — a job in demand in Connecticut.

Of 161 graduates

55

Entered apprenticeships

48

Continued in apprenticeships

35

Finished apprenticeships

28

Passed the state licensing exam

SOURCE: State of Connecticut