

Site 3 (Main Street)

Located just on the other side of Main Street from Site 2, Site 3 also has one side on the northern edge of I-84. It is also bounded by Windsor Street on the east along with the Bank of America building and the Crowne Plaza Hotel. Pleasant Street borders the northern side of the site. In order for this site to be large enough for an arena, a portion of Trumbull Street (between Main Street and Windsor Street) would have to be vacated. Surrounded by several local roadways, this site could also be accessed from a number of directions, with the advantage of tapping into downtown's nearby parking supply. This site has also been identified for further analysis.

Site 4 (Asylum Street)

This site is located south of I-84, bounded by Church Street, Ann Street, Asylum Street, and Union Place – just west of the existing Civic Center. In order for an arena to fit within this area, Allyn Street would have to be vacated, in addition to two blocks of High Street (between Church Street and Asylum Street). While an arena could physically fit within these boundaries and be located close to parking and the rail station, it would greatly impact several existing properties including historically significant buildings such as the Bond Hotel and St. Patrick – St. Anthony Church. This site, therefore, has been dismissed.
